

MSI Young Scholar Application Instructions 2025

Eligibility

Eligible candidates are marketing faculty who are 3 to 7 years post-Ph.D. or from first full-time faculty appointment. Selection is based on the following criteria:

- Substantive contributions of the candidates most important papers published within the past five years
- Demonstrated impact on the field of marketing
- Research productivity and quality in top business journals and relevant interdisciplinary outlets
- Relevance of research to the MSI member community

Candidates should self-nominate and apply directly. Senior faculty should forward self-nomination information to eligible scholars.

Application form requirements

Your complete application must include the following:

- CV
- 1-2 page summary document
- Contact information
- Publication summary
- Awards summary
- EdBoards summary

Please review the instructions below for details on the required submissions.

To ensure a seamless application process, we recommend collecting all required information before you begin. You can save your progress and return to complete your submission later if needed.

You will receive an email confirmation upon submission. The Young Scholars Committee will announce selection decisions in spring, 2026. For any questions or issues please contact research@msi.org.
